Round Five.

From the first tap of the gong until the end it was slap, bang, hammer and tongs, nearly every second, both men working away with all the energy they possessed. McGovern, knowing that the fight meant his position in the front ranks as a fighter, was after his man every second.

In a majority of the rounds he was on the aggressive, and Sullivan was forced to do far more defensive work than his opponent. He put up a wonderful fight, however, and was game to the sore.

When the crash came, however, he was groggy and going fast. The chances are that he would not have lasted many more rounds had he risen to also feet before Fitzsiammons called time. In the fourth round Sullivan was at his best. He forced the fighting, especially in the last half, and he had McGovern plainly going. The next contest scheduled to take place in this city is between George Condie and Kid Flynn, on the coming Friday night. The men are in the middleweight class and appear to be evenly matched. Both are now in active training and have been for the past two weeks. The contest is not near enough at hand for the public to begin picking a favorite, but a number of persons visit the training quarters every day. The men are of the whirlwind order and it is thought the fight will be short and fast. Both have the wallop and it is only a question which lands first.

There is strong talk of a return go between Jack Clifford and Roy Condle. Condle wants it, and Clifford is not averse to giving the local man another try, but wants to get at Jack Wade first. One post to run for the $2,000 purse.

Diderot and Frangible went out in front and raced together all the way. Diderot tired in the stretch and Frangible beat him over two lengths. O'Connor put up a poor exhibition on Janice, waiting too long with her. Ransch, who rode Diderot, claimed a foul against Knapp on Frangible, but it was not allowed.
